No matter what you're into, there's a 2007 motorcycle that's perfect for blowing your tax refund.

THE EMPEROR'S THRONE ECOSSE HERETIC

FROM $49,800

Limited to an edition of 100, the Heretic comes custom-built for its owner, with luxury touches like a chrome-moly chassis and an ISR radial brake system. A sexy exotic that gives you complete and total control? It's Leonardo DiCaprio's wet dream! ecossemoto.com

THE NUDIST KAWASAKI Z1000

$8,649

Rejiggered for 2007 with more power and updated styling, the Z sports a 953 cc, four-cylinder engine; quad-style dual mufflers; and the minimal bodywork and exposed chassis of a traditional naked bike. kawasaki.com

THE HIGH ROLLER SUZUKI BOULEVARD M109R LIMITED EDITION

$12,999

Sometimes you want to look good rolling down the block. Suzuki's flagship cruiser comes with a textured seat, a checkerboard speedometer and an ass-kicking 1783 cc V-twin engine. suzuki.com

THE HELL-RAISER VICTORY VEGAS 8-BALL

$13,399

If the devil himself rode a motorcycle, it would be this one. The blacked-out solo-seater has power to back up its menacing looks, so drop the wet clutch, kick the V-twin into action and we'll see you in hell. victorymotorcycles.com

THE SPEED FREAK YAMAHA YZF-R1

$11,599

Built like a MotoGP race bike for the streets, the YZF-R1 comes with a 998 cc, liquid-cooled, four-cylinder engine with enough gusto to convince even Ben Roethlisberger to strap on a helmet. yamaha-motor.com

THE STALLION DUCATI 1098 S TRICOLORE

$24,995

The # Duce of the Ducati range is backed by a 160-hp, twin-cylinder engine and has more power than some compact cars. We haven't seen an Italian this tough since Tony Danza choked a kitten. ducati.com
